

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

FELLOWSHIP OPPORTUNITY

Water Governance and Regional Development in the Mekong Basin

Important details

- 12 fellowships are available for young or mid-career university, civil society and government researchers to research the Mekong River Basin
- Research fellowships, on a part time basis, are of 16 months duration.
- Open to anyone, but preference given to nationals from the countries that share the Mekong River
- Fellowships to commence in June 2015, with US$15,000 available per fellow for research costs and honorarium.
- Research that focuses on gender is especially encouraged; all projects must consider gender; the project is highly committed to support women researchers

Research themes

- Water Governance
- Healthy Rivers
- River Food Systems
- Healthy Landscape and Ecosystems
- Gender and Social Justice

Application
deadline: 22nd May
2015, 17:00 (ICT)

For further details and how to apply visit:

<http://wle-mekong.cgiar.org/wle-gm-projects/mk32/>

Enquires to: wle.mekongfellowship@gmail.com

This project is led by the Mekong Sub-region Social Research Center, Faculty of Liberal Arts, Ubon Ratchathani University, with the CGIAR Water-Land-Ecosystems project and Australian Aid, and a wider consortium of universities and research institutes

